

BEGINNING DAY 2021

6. Invited to a royal wedding

“When we get together, why do we do so? So as to tear out from our friends, and if it were possible from the whole world, the nothingness in which all men find themselves. Ours is a ‘vocational’ relationship. A vocational relationship is just this: that on meeting us [...] any woman or man, someone your own age or younger, a person, feels sort of grasped in his innermost self, redeemed from his apparent nothingness, weakness, evil, or confusion and, all at once, feels as if invited to a royal wedding.” (L. Giussani, “Why Do We Gather Together? To Free Ourselves from Evil. The One Who Frees Us Is Christ,” Traces, n. 7/2003)

When we get together, why do we do so?
